Special Issue: American Ethnicity and East European Immigration
Editor: Agnieszka Małe k

CONTENTS

Agnieszka Małe k: On American Soil. Introduction to the Special Issue .............. 5

ARTICLES

Hasia Diner: Wandering Jews: Peddlers, Immigrants, and the Discovery of “New Worlds” ......................................................... 13
Walter D. Kamphoefner: German-Slavic Relations in Texas and the Midwest ....... 27
Marek Vlha: American Czechs between Sympathies with Polish Immigrants and Transmigration to Russia: Crises of Pan-Slavic Ideals on American Soil in the 1860s ......................................................... 69
Eva Eckert: American Ethnicity and Czech Immigrants’ Integration in Texas: Cemetery Data ......................................................... 85
Steven J. Diner: Immigrant Students in American Colleges (1900–1945) .......... 113
James S. Pulka: Civil Rights for Some, Stereotyping for Others: Two Views on the Open Housing Movement of the 1960s ........................................ 121
Stephen M. Leahy: Thoughts on Milwaukee and Civil Rights, 1958–1968 ........ 133
Suzanne M. Sinke: A Family Dispersed: Maintaining Unexpected Transnational Ties. American Ethnicity and Austrian Exile ........................................ 143
Anna Mazurkiewicz: Unwilling Immigrants: Transnational Identities of East Central European Exiles during the Cold War ................................. 159
Mary Patrice Erdmans: Murder in New Britain: Poles and Puerto Ricans Living in Concentrated Poverty .................................................. 173
Anna Fiń: The Newest Polish New Yorkers: A Social and Demographic Profile .... 193
Graham Russell Gao Hodges: New York City Taxicab Drivers and the Immigrant Experience ......................................................... 215
Balazs Venkovits: Revolutionaries, Travelers, Emigrants: Questions of Identity in Hungarian Emigrant Accounts ........................................ 229
Kristina-Monika Kocyba: “Shall we be tolerant of intolerance?” The Reception of Lessing’s Nathan the Wise in American Exile .......................... 247
Grażyna J. Kozaczka: The Question of Identity in Polish American Fiction of the Early 21st Century .................................................. 257
Thomas J. Napierkowski: A Polish Doctor in the Nazi Camps: Creative Nonfiction, Intimate Ethnography, and Ethnicity ...................................... 271
Óscar Álvarez-Gila: Western Gypsies or Eastern Mexicans? Exoticism and Ignorance in the Construction of the Image of Basque Immigrants in American Cinema, 1913–1980 ........................................ 283

CONTRIBUTORS ............................................................................. 303